Cyber Awareness Now!

In light of recent threats and attacks, the Dept. of Defense and other federal agencies are now requiring contractors to adequately secure and protect their information and data.

Hawaii businesses and nonprofits both large and small are at risk for data breaches and cyberattacks.

CyberHawaii believes our local entities can be ready to both prevent and respond to cyber attacks.

Being Cyber Aware Now means our local businesses and nonprofits can protect themselves AND be ready to compete for federal contracting opportunities.

Cyber Ready Hawaii: Are You a Cyber Leader?

The Cyber Ready Hawaii program is designed to train entry level aspiring cybersecurity professionals to lead and support Hawaii’s small to medium-sized businesses and nonprofits (SME) through a Cyber Readiness Program that focuses on cybersecurity hygiene and basic safeguarding measures required to meet federal contracting requirements.

We are looking for innovative and highly motivated Cyber Leader candidates who will be brought on as independent contractors to help train local businesses and nonprofits to be cyber ready. Specifically individuals who:

- Are currently pursuing or have a degree or related work experience in cybersecurity, computer science, information technology, business or other related disciplines
- Have the ability to work and communicate effectively in a professional environment
- Have basic knowledge of cybersecurity principles, tools and devices
- Are self-motivated and able to work on multiple simultaneous projects

Leaders will undergo training in both our Cyber Leader and Cyber Readiness Certification Programs. Upon completion, leaders will be paired with SMEs to provide guidance and support as they complete the Cyber Readiness Program.

This is a fast-paced environment that affords the right candidate unique opportunities and challenges while being exposed to a variety of technologies and applications.

Cyber Leaders will be expected to successfully lead their assigned SMEs through the program, requiring an estimated 6-8 hour a week commitment beginning in Summer 2021, with the possibility of continuing through the Fall and Spring.
